LIGHTING COLLECTION

OLETTE

A downward glow, from the central core differentiates this transitional interpretation of a classic chandelier design. Stark lines and sharp bends percolate up to a beacon of light, atop each rod. These are grand pieces designed to complement the room's principal aesthetic.

NORAH

There is a dichotomy between the handmade, freeform glass ribbons and the arctic chisel of quartz crystal they surround. It is further embellished with a trio of colors and the fascinating reflection and refraction emitted when light is introduced. The artistic conflict has created stunning pieces set to define a space.
